

Workshop 3

Poster presentation

Email to: especies@dgmambie.caib.es

Vicenç Fortesa Pons [vfortesa@dgmambie.caib.es]

A NEW LEGAL FRAMEWORK AS TO PROTECT THE THREATENED FLORA OF THE BALEARIC ISLANDS

Servei de Protecció d'Espècies. Conselleria de Medi Ambient, Govern Balear.

Av. Gabriel Alomar i Villalonga, 33. 07006-PALMA (Balearic Islands. Spain)

especies@dgmambie.caib.es

Legal protection of threatened species is not warranty enough of threatened species conservation. Anyway, is essential to have an agile legal framework and flexible to the taxonomically advances and the apparition of new threats.

The Balearic Government, has a new Threatened Species and Specially Protected Species Catalogue, applied in all the territory of the Balearic Islands, that includes some new aspects:

- To create three new categories, complementary to the national laws: depending on conservation, depending on special protection and depending on extinguished species.
- New projects and programs of catalogued species.
- To create the Balearic Islands Fauna and Flora Adviser Council.
- To create the figure of the sensitive area.
- To formalise agreement with owners.

This communication shows this new Catalogue as its applications to some definite examples for the threatened Balearic Flora.